I'm not exactly sure how long ago it was that our prayer calendar listed them by name, asking God to change their hearts or remove them from their positions of influence. Most transitioned out of the limelight. The changes were not immediate, but little by little they disappeared from the big screen. Some retired, some passed away, some found a different calling, some lost their favor with the public. Some might deny that God had anything to do with it, but I can't help but believe God was hearing the prayers of His people! I am not going to list them by name, considering that it is not only the big 3 or 4 TV networks anymore who are trying to influence the multitudes. We now have news streaming to us from every avenue.
