"You keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on You, because he trusts in You. Trust in the Lord forever, for the Lord God is an everlasting rock (Isa. 26:3-4)." What a thought to focus on as we start the summer. Normally, the summer is a time to slow down from the normal routine of the school year, and take a breath as we plan for baseball and soccer games, eating hot dogs and burgers--and brats--while we watch the kids play. Plus, we finalize our plans for a little time away, whether it's at the beach, in the mountains, or at a family reunion. But this summer, with the higher gas prices, which leads to higher prices everywhere else, the unrest in the Mideast, the ramping up of the political rhetoric due to the approaching midterm elections, the air is not so calming; the season is not so conducive to relaxing. Instead, it can be a time of nervous uncertainty.

Our adversary does not take a holiday. There may be moments when we feel we can breathe a little easier, but that is because he is strategizing his next move. Who knows, but that he is mobilizing his forces to try to destabilize our nation with some sort of horrific attack on our 250th birthday celebrations? Can we trust our leaders to keep us safe? No, we need to stay focused on the Lord throughout the summer. It's not just the stormy weather that we need to watch; it's the gathering spiritual storm.
